Rules and Judging Guidelines

March 2018

Section One — General Rules for Competition

I. General Rules

- Nandu will be allowed in contemporary advanced individual routines but will be scored under non-nandu rules.
- Individuals registered to compete cannot be judges on the same day of their division competition(s). Judges may not register to compete in a division they have volunteered to officiate in. Judges/school masters cannot compete in a group set that their students are registered in.
- The maximum number of individual events a competitor may register for is 4. This excludes Push Hands, Sparring Set, and Group Set, of which each competitor may register in one event each. Thus, the maximum total number of events a competitor may register for is 7, which includes 4 individual events, 1 push hands, 1 sparring set, and 1 group set.
 - This also excludes for 2018 the CMAT Junior World Wushu Preparatory Events as the maximum an individual can register for this separately is 4. See CMT Junior World Wushu Preparatory Events rules and regulations for details.

- Contemporary forms such as Long Fist (Chang Quan) and Southern Fist (Nan Quan) are not allowed in Traditional events. Ineligible forms will be determined by the head judge. Competitors who violate this rule will be disqualified from the event. After disqualification, competitors will be moved to the appropriate contemporary event as long as it has not yet occurred.
- Traditional forms may include difficulty moves. No extra points will be awarded for doing them; likewise, the competitor's score can be adversely affected for poorly executed difficulty moves. These techniques must be based on the particular style in order to remain in lieu of the corresponding division and competition (e.g. Shaolin techniques, head flip, leg hold and fall, handspring, back flip, etc.).
- Weapons used for Traditional events must be able to stand under their own weight. If violated, the competitor will be disqualified.
- A competitor may not compete with the same form twice. Competitors who violate this rule will be disqualified for all instances where the same form was used.
- Beginner Tan Tui competitors must perform at least 4 sections of the form. Intermediate competitors must perform at least 6 sections of the form.
- No unauthorized personnel will be allowed on the competition floor. All offenders will be escorted off and their admissions revoked. If the offender is a parent, coach, or associate of a competitor, that competitor will be disqualified. Should the offender be associated with multiple competitors, one will be disqualified at the discretion of the staff. In all such cases there will be no refunds.
- A competitor or his/her coach may appeal a score, but only for their own form. One may not appeal the score of another competitor's routine. Appeal process is subject to approval by CMAT arbitrators. More details in chapter 4, Arbitration.

- Events can be combined and/or rescheduled at tournament director's discretion. It is the responsibility of the competitor (and any/all supporting members such as coach and family) to check the schedule of events. All changes will be announced ahead of time publicly.
 - In the case of brackets, these will be treated as subsets of the same event and are governed by all the same rules and regulations of the original event. These brackets will be made into separate groupings for competitors as appropriate by the decision of the CMAT leadership and arbitration.
 - Brackets may or may not receive separate medaling, based on the needs and circumstances of the bracket creation.
 - It is the responsibility of the athletes to have notified CMAT leadership what their routine would have been before event scheduling.
 - Competitors and their coaches cannot request athletes to be moved into a bracket or request that a bracket be made on the day of the event, even if they have the same or similar routine. However, CMAT arbitration may pull competitor(s) into a bracket at their discretion.
 - If there are less than optimal amounts of competitors to qualify for a bracket sub category in any given event, then no bracket separation may occur and a competitor may be regrouped from a bracket into the original event grouping. This decision is at the discretion of CMAT leadership and arbitration.
 - For events that are qualifiers for All-Around Champion, Rule #3 of Section IV. All-Around Champion Scoring, All-Around Champion Scoring—Tie Breakers will apply to all brackets under one event as the same event, even if medaled separately. The highest points given between each gold medalist in each bracket shall determine which competitor is ranked higher towards All-Around Champion. See Section IV. All-Around Champion Scoring for more details.

Skill levels will include three divisions, based on the number of years of Wushu training and experience:

● All-Around Champion Scoring—tie breakers

If two or more competitors tie, the following criteria will be applied one at a time in the order listed until a winner is determined:

2. The competitor who has more 1st place finishes shall be placed higher. Only the forms that make up the point score (as calculated above) will be considered for this criterion.
3. The competitor who received a higher score than an equally-ranked competitor in the same event shall be placed higher. All individual forms that the competitor competed in will be considered for this criterion.
4. The competitor with the smallest sum of differences between the two dropped (highest and lowest) scores of each of his or her events shall be placed higher. All individual forms that the competitor competed in will be considered for this criterion.

If after the fourth criterion, competitors are still tied, they will all be awarded the all-around title.

III. Criteria and Methods of Scoring

A. Skill Levels & Scoring Ranges

1. All competitors will be judged on a 6.0 - 10.0 scale.

B. General Method of Scoring

1. Scoring by Judges: Scores shall be given by the Scoring Judges based on their evaluation of each competitor's technical execution of his routine, and according to the criteria for the specific event. The score shall be determined by subtracting points specified for errors from the value of points set for various factors. Scores displayed by the judges shall contain two digits after the decimal point, with the second digit being restricted to 0 or 5.
2. Determination of the Merited Score: A competitor's merited score is the average of the middle three of the five scores given by the Scoring Judges. The merited score shall be truncated at two digits after the decimal point.
3. Determination of the Final Score: A competitor's final score is determined by subtracting any points deducted by the Head Judge from the merited score. The resulting total is the final score.

C. Maximum Score Spreads

1. The Scorekeeper will determine the high and low score out of the five raw scores and find the difference between them.
2. If the difference is more than 0.60, the scorekeeper will inform the Head Judge so that she/he can call for a re-score.
3. The Head Judge will then instruct the Scoring Judges that they must re-score in an attempt to bring the scores within the acceptable range for maximum score spread.
4. The Scoring Judges will then score the competitor again.
5. The second set of scores shall stand, and shall be recorded as the competitor's scores, even if the scores still do not meet the required maximum score spread.

D. Breaking Ties

1. If two competitors have the same final score, the tie between those two competitors will be broken in the following manner:
 - a. The competitor whose mean (average) value of the two invalid (high and low that were dropped) scores is closer to the value of their original final score shall be placed higher.
 - b. If the tie still remains, the competitor with the higher mean (average) value of the two invalid (dropped) scores will be placed higher.
 - c. If the tie still remains, the competitor whose lower invalid (dropped) score is higher shall be placed higher.
2. If the tie cannot be broken by any of the above methods, the tied competitors shall share the place, with the next place left vacant. If the tied competitors are tied for first place, the next place awarded to the next competitor down will be third.

E. Scoring Criteria for Individual Forms Events

1. The maximum points for any event is 10.0. The criteria for evaluation and deduction are as follows:
2. Technical Specifications of Performance: 6 points

- b. Each occurrence of a slight deviation from correctness in any of the above areas shall result in a deduction of 0.05 point from the 6-point total.
- c. Each apparent deviation from correctness shall result in a 0.10-point deduction.
- d. Each serious deviation from correctness shall result in a 0.20-point deduction.
- e. The overall deduction shall not exceed 0.20-point for more than one error in the same movement.
- f. Deductions of points if the apparatus blade gets off handle, touches body or bent more than 45 degrees.

 - iii. Content refers to variety of techniques displayed within a routine. Ideally a routine should display a wide variety of techniques using the characteristics of the style performed.
 - iv. Structure refers to the cohesive flow from one movement or technique to the next. The sections or parts of the routine should transition smoothly and logically from one to the next, and not seem forced or awkward.

 - iii. A serious or repeated lack of one or two elements, or an apparent lack in three or more elements should result in a deduction of 1.1-1.5 points.
 - iv. A serious or repeated lack of three or more elements should result in a deduction of 1.6-2.0 points.

5. Additional deductions applied by Scoring Judges

- a. Forgetfulness:
 - i. A pause affecting the harmony of movements shall result in a deduction of 0.2 point.
- b. Effects of costume/uniform or decorations on movements:
 - i. In the process of competition, 0.1 point shall be deducted for each incident in which any part of the performer's body gets caught or entangled by the flags of his broadsword or the tassel of his sword, so as to affect his movements.

- ii. 0.1 point shall be deducted for any weapon or garment decoration that falls off in the course of competition.
 - iii. 0.1 point shall be deducted for a competitor whose uniform tears, sash falls off, top comes open, shoe falls off, etc.
- c. Loss or breakage of weapon:
- i. Each occurrence of a weapon inappropriately touching a competitor's body or the floor, or coming loose from a competitor's hand, shall result in a deduction of 0.1 point.
 - ii. Each occurrence of a weapon becoming obviously bent or deformed (permanent bend in apparatus greater than 45 degrees) shall result in a deduction of 0.2 point.
 - iii. Each occurrence of a weapon breaking or falling to the ground shall result in a deduction of 0.5 point.
- d. Loss of balance:
- i. Each loss of balance, indicated by sway of the body or superfluous step or skip, shall result in a deduction of 0.1 point.
 - ii. Repeated occurrences of loss of balance shall result in cumulative deductions.
 - iii. A loss of balance accompanied by a competitor touching the ground to support himself shall result in a deduction of 0.3 point.
